

Senetas Privacy Policy – Contact Promise

May 2018

Senetas would like you to be among the first to receive news about our products, services and events, and papers about data-in-motion security and technical issues.

We communicate with you in various ways; including email, social media, phone, in person and through our website (Site) announcements pages, but only if you would like us to contact you.

Your privacy is very important to us, which is why we make sure you are always in control of what we do with your personal information and how we communicate with you.

Our contact promise

We will only use your information to help you make the most of what we have to offer. That means our privacy policy includes ensuring you will only receive meaningful information and, where possible, information tailored to what you want, such as:

- Tips and guidance to help you get the best from our products and services
- Information about data-in-motion security and our products' benefits
- Details of new products and services, or upgrades to our products and services
- Company news and events you may wish to know about
- Requests for your feedback.

We will make every effort to ensure our contact with you is relevant and based on the information you provide.

You may opt out at any time. However, please remember, if you do opt out of receiving our information you may miss useful data security information and news.

Privacy and compliance

We will never share your information to unrelated third parties.

We will always comply with all relevant data privacy and protection legislation. We adopt the highest data privacy and security standards, wherever they apply (e.g. the EU's General Data Protection Regulation). You can see how we are doing this by reading our Privacy Policy statement.

Please let us know if your details change, so that we may stay in touch; info@senetas.com
